

Beach Weekender Incentive

Incentivise and reward your team with a memorable few days in the sun

Our popular 'beach weekender' trips head to exciting destinations like Marbella and Ibiza and can easily be extended for a longer and more unforgettable experience.

Your team are collected from work on Thursday afternoon by private car or minibus and whisked to the nearest airport, arriving at their destination in time for a relaxing drink at the beach bar before a delicious evening BBQ. Following Friday's buffet breakfast, the rest of the day is spent at leisure, flitting between the sun lounger and the water. The evening then starts with cocktails on the terrace, before dining out at a top local restaurant.

Saturday's entertainment is a cruise on a private catamaran with cold drinks flowing and a light buffet lunch, before the team get to dress to impress in the evening with a night out at a VIP club. Sunday morning is spent relaxing and recovering, before flying home in the afternoon with happy memories of a fantastic long weekend.
